

Sarah's Choice

Literature Analysis 7-8 - Sarah, Plain and Tall, Chapters 6-9

Quick Refresh: In the final chapters, Sarah keeps learning prairie life while still missing the sea. Anna and Caleb watch closely because they fear she may leave. When Sarah goes to town alone, the family worries. Her return matters because it shows she is choosing this family and this new home.

Evidence Tracker

Use details from chapters 6-9 to explain what Sarah feels and why her decision matters.

What Sarah does or says	What it reveals about her	Why it matters to the family

Home: Place or People?

Compare what Sarah misses with what she gains by staying.

Sarah's old home: Maine and the sea	Sarah's new home: the prairie family
Details Sarah misses:	Details that show she belongs:
What this place means to Sarah:	What these people mean to Sarah:

Claim Practice

Complete the claim, then support it with two specific pieces of evidence.

Sarah chooses to stay because

Evidence 1:

Evidence 2:

Exit Response

Answer in 4-6 complete sentences. Use at least two details from the book.

What does the ending suggest home really means?

Focus words: home, belonging, fear, choice, trust, change.